VOL. III. RALEIGH, N. C., MONDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1867. NO. 58.

DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the New York World, (Dem.) Oct. 9.

The returns of yesterday's election tell only one story. From every quarter the news comes that the Democrats have not only gained largely upon their vote of last year, but in (most) places have handsomely beaten their opponents. They have carried Pennsylvania by a majority of at least seven thousand, and swept that Radical stronghold, Philadelphia so thoroughly that there seems to be nothing left of Radicalism in the city. In Ohio they have defeated the proposed amendment to the State Constitution extending the elective franchise to negroes, and probably have elected their State ticket. From Indiana and Iowa very meagre reports reach us, but they are echoes of the good news from Pennsylvania and Ohio. Who could ask for more?

Let the news which we print this morning be the signal for rejoicing all over the country, and let it inspire all true men every where, with a fresh confidence in the sober second thought of the American people, which, thanks to an overruling Providence, never yet has failed to resume its sway over temporary passions, however strong they may have been.

The clouds were rifled last spring when Radicalism was beaten in Connecticut. The heavens grew brighter when we heard of the Democratic victory in California, and now the sky is clear. Patriots, everywhere, thank God and take courage!

From the N. Y. Herald, Oct. 9, (Ind.)

Unequivocal protest against the continued rule of the Radical party anywhere, or for any purpose, seems to be the substance of the decision given at the polls yesterday in Pennsylvania and Ohio. In Ohio the great Republican party is, like Dogberry, "one that hath had losses," and heavy losses too; while the chosen measure of the Radicals—the amendment to the State Constitution giving suffrage to the negroes—is certainly lost. Ohio will have no more of the party that impudently raises its nigger supremacy policy to the dignity of the "main question." Such is the clear declaration of her people. The defeat of the Republican candidate for Governor of Ohio—a sound Union soldier, whose war record was relied upon to rally all the strength of his party—shows how complete is the change of popular sentiment, and gives the strongest expression to the purpose of the people to withdraw their support from the political organization that has abused such grand opportunities. Ohio declares against giving the suffrage to niggers, and if this cardinal point of Radical policy could have been carried anywhere, it was in that State.—This result, therefore, shows how just were the fears of our own Radicals in keeping this pet measure out of the reach of the people, by barking the Constitution formed by the Radical convention.

Philadelphia is completely swept by the elements adverse to the Radicals, and the result throughout the State of Pennsylvania shows as clear a rising of the people against party and Radicalism as the result in Ohio.

From the New York Sun (Rep.) October 9.

If the elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Iowa should all point one way, it would not be reasonable to say that local causes were accountable. If the Republicans in these States hold their own, or nearly do so, there will be no basis for the Democratic claim that the people are becoming disgusted with that party. If, however, the Democrats should gain to the extent of their success in California and Maine, the fact would be convincing evidence that the people are in some way displeased with the Republican leaders.

From the Philadelphia Press (Forney) October 9.

The defeat of the Republican party in Philadelphia is overwhelming. We have fallen on the very ward, and while we do not conceal our profound regret at the unexpected event, neither do we conceal our satisfaction that we have had to encounter a host of prejudices, and an organization of bigotries, which can never again be powerfully arrayed against the Republican party. It is unnecessary to specify the causes of our overthrow. These are now so sufficiently familiar as to be remembered as warnings in the greater trials immediately before us—warnings which, like the overthrow of the Union army at Bull Run in 1861, will only better discipline and prepare the champions of human freedom for a braver and a luckier conflict with the sympathizers with the rebellion.

From the National Intelligencer.

A TORRENT OF DEFEATS.

The Radicals are certainly unfortunate now-a-days. Fate frowns upon them everywhere. East, West, and Centre, all show heavy Democratic gains. Such is the story told by the telegraph, with an iteration which must exceedingly disgust and annoy the Radicals. If we take the purely agricultural communities of the great West, the mining districts of Pennsylvania, the manufacturing towns of Connecticut and New Jersey, the ship-yards of Maine, the gold industries of California, and lastly, the great commercial and manufacturing centres like Philadelphia and Cincinnati, we find the same unvarying voice of condemnation for the party and its rashness.

In California and Ohio the Republicans made a most animated and earnest canvass, sparing no pains to achieve success. In Pennsylvania and Iowa they relied on more quiet work, avoiding, for the most part, public discussion and excitement. In Maine they depended mainly on their great majority of last year—and yet in all, notwithstanding these different tactics, we witness overwhelming defeats. In California they ran a civilian acknowledged to be in partnership with knaves; in Ohio they supported, on the contrary, a soldier of high personal character, and yet they succeeded about as well, or rather as badly, in one place as the other.

Again, they have made this or that issue more prominent, according to localities, and what they supposed party necessity required. In California they shouldered negro suffrage, and were understood to have a special hankering for the State treasury. In Iowa they attempted to carry negro suffrage, but utterly repudiated the tariff. In Indiana they also put the tariff out of sight. In Ohio they put negro suffrage in the foreground, and threw in a little of impeachment. In Pennsylvania they evaded the issue of negro suffrage, and sought to turn the canvass exclusively on the merits of the President, affirming him to be a monster only to be subdued and restrained by a Radical success. In one place they favor excise and Sunday laws, in another they say nothing about them, and in others they seek to dodge this issue altogether. On the subject of the public debt they have in different States quite as many different sorts of views, from those of Butler up to those of Greeley.

We do not find the slightest difference resulting from these different styles of warfare adopted by the Radicals. It does not seem to have made any difference how they managed their campaign; defeat and loss are invariable, and the moral is plain, that no matter which of their protean shapes they may choose to assume, the country has passed the point of endurance, and will have no more of this party. Whatever habiliment they select, the people cry out:—"Take any other shape but that."

THE NORTH AMERICA
LIFE
INSURANCE COMPANY.

New Features and Advantages Which are Known as Belonging to no Other Company in the United States.

THE MANAGEMENT OF THIS COMPANY IS upon the Mutual Benefit System—the accumulated profits going to the assured.

This company makes a special deposit with the Insurance Department of the State, for which Registered policies are issued if desired, countersigned by the Superintendent of the Insurance Department of the State of New York, certifying that such policies are secured by pledge of public stocks.

No other Company gives the assured a guarantee of this character or anything equivalent.

Thirty days of grace are allowed on all renewal premiums, and the policy remains valid and in full force during that time.

No restrictions as to travel or residence abroad at any season of the year, outside the tropics, which gives a nearly world-wide and unconditional policy.

No higher rate of premium charged for stationary Engineers, Conductors, Baggage Masters, Mail Agents, nor in consequence of change of employment after the policy is issued.

Notes are not required by this Company, but a loan may be obtained on the policy for one third of the annual premium, which is cancelled by the profits applied as dividends.

Joint policies, including man and wife, are issued by this Company, and the amount insured is payable to the survivor on the death of either.

Our dividend, January 1st, 1866, was 45 per cent.

Dividends are declared annually, and paid on settlement of 4th Annual Premium, all our plans upon the full amount of premiums received.

Premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly.

All policies issued by this Company are non-forfeiting, after two, in some instances, and three annual payments in others.

The per centage of premium receipts in 1865, over 1864, was 20 per cent. which is nearly double that of any other New York company.

No policies have been forfeited from non-payment of dues, except on account of fraud.

"ÆTNA"
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.
ASSETS $7,000,000.

THIS COMPANY ISSUES TEN YEAR NON-FORFEITING ENDOWMENT POLICIES, contracting to pay the amount insured at death or the specified time.

An endowment policy presents the double attraction of providing for one's family or other dependents in case he should be cut off before a specified age, or of securing to himself independence, in case he attains the age. Thus insuring for ten years, a note for one half of the cost will be taken by paying six per cent interest.

This plan gives in addition to all the advantages of life insurance, a safe and convenient INVESTMENT for one's savings, till they have accumulated to a definite amount which he receives in one sum at the specified time.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1867.

THE EFFECT OF THE RE-ACTION.

It cannot be doubted that the unwise and extreme measures of the Radicals towards the South, as well as the very plain intimation that similar measures would be forced upon the North, have produced, to a great extent, the mighty re-action in public sentiment now going on among the masses of the white people of the North. The explanations of the Republican press, and of their candidates for office last year, which they put upon the Howard amendment, leading the Northern people to regard the amendment as a humane and wise measure, while its real character was kept from public view, gave the party its success. The truth is now breaking forth upon the public mind, revealing the fact that the Howard amendment, if incorporated in the Constitution of the United States, in the hands of the Radicals contains every essential element necessary to force negro suffrage, negro equality and superiority upon the whole country, and at the same time furnishes the fulcrum for the entire absorption of all the powers of the States into the Congress, breaking down the essential protectives to freedom, held by the States and never surrendered to the general government, and for the utter subversion of the Republic.

It has been perfectly astounding to us, that sane men, lovers of liberty and of the conservative powers of our Constitution, could have been so blind to the destructive and vicious character of the amendment, in Radical hands, as ever to have countenanced, for a moment, the voluntary acquiescence of the Southern people in so iniquitous a measure. For some time the same delusions were fastened upon the public mind in regard to the real purposes of the Reconstruction Acts. Had the execution of these laws been placed in the hands of purely military men, perhaps, even to this day, the trap set for the destruction of the Republic would not have been discovered. The Reconstruction Acts simply contain the elementary principle of universal negro suffrage, enforced upon the South by the bayonet, and then must follow the Pandora's box, the Howard amendment, out of which must come all the rest—the destruction of all State authority, the entire surrender of the interests and domestic affairs of the people of the States into the hands of Congress; and then negro equality, civilly, politically and socially.

When it was suggested to Gen. Sickles, some months ago, that he could not find in the Reconstruction Acts the requisition that negroes must ride in first-class coaches along with ladies, that negroes should sit on juries to try white men, upon the simple condition that they had paid public taxes, and that they were entitled to seats in Convention and to hold office, simply because they could vote, we are informed that he coolly remarked that he knew that, but, said he, "all these will surely follow, and I deem it best to familiarize the Southern people, in advance, with these things, and the Southern people will act with true philosophy only when they determine to make the best of it."

What has been the effect of all this upon the colored people? In many cases, they have grown daily in arrogance and insult—increasing their demands upon the whites, insolent, in their language and demeanor, to gentlemen and ladies, who had been their best friends, demanding office as a means of living, instead of labor, vaunting their claims to seats in the Convention, to seats in Congress, in the Legislature, and to all important offices, and frequently accompanying these demands with incendiary threats. We rejoice to say, that many of our colored population have acted as if unaffected by these things, and hence, while the noisy and vaunting have been shunned by the whites, those who have demeaned themselves well have been respected and kindly treated.

All these things in the South have helped to increase this re-action, and it will go on, we trust, until truth and justice and civil liberty shall be re-established upon this continent. But many Southern blacks are discouraged and downcast at the re-action in the North. False and unfounded statements are made to them, and many have their fears excited.

We say to the colored people, that their fears are groundless. Their freedom is safe beyond a peradventure. No power on earth can again enslave them. The Southern whites will never permit such a thing. Nor will they suffer any loss of right to the protection of life, person or property. But we tell them, emphatically, that the white race will rule North Carolina and will rule North America. Let them make up their minds to this and be good citizens, and their Conservative white friends will never forsake them!

THE National Intelligencer makes a very good hit when it says a considerable portion of the time of the last session of Congress was occupied in preparations for a solemn inquisition to determine whether the State governments of Kentucky and Maryland are republican in form. This was done simply because they had dared to give Democratic majorities. Now that Pennsylvania and Ohio have done precisely the same thing, a new Congressional Committee will have to be raised, to enquire into the genuine republicanism of their forms of government.

IT is stated that the Republican committee in Washington sent $30,000 to Philadelphia, on the Saturday before the election, in order to influence the result. But it was no go.

THE MEETING ON SATURDAY.

The meeting on Saturday last, though not altogether so large as we anticipated, was highly respectable in point of numbers and particularly so in point of character and intelligence. Several hundred of the best and most substantial citizens of the county were present, besides a fair number of colored men.

A number of gentlemen, of known speaking abilities, had been invited to address the people on the occasion, but, for various causes, none could comply except Gov. Bragg. This was a disappointment, but the instructive, practical and stirring speech of Gov. Bragg amply compensated the interested audience. It is matter of much regret that thousands of our colored population were not present to hear his wise counsels. His speech was one of the most excellent, in all respects, we have ever had the pleasure of listening to, and the universal sentiment, among those who heard it, white and black, was that of gratification and pleasure.

The object of the meeting, which was simply to secure harmony of action, was fully accomplished. There was no purpose to organize a party or to designate candidates for the Convention.

MORE RADICAL TROUBLES.—The Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer has the following concerning the situation of the Radicals in Georgia:

"We hear of splits and squabbles in the Radical ranks in a number of places. And it would be rather strange if there were not irreconcilable divisions between the incongruous elements composing that party.—There are three well-defined castes among them, and each has its claims to precedence. There are the negroes, the so-called Southern loyalists and the Northern adventurers. The first class furnishes the voters, and is strong in numbers; the second claims reward for its "martyrdom" and "loyalty," and the third for its superior intelligence and its disinterested labors in coming South to enlighten, redeem and organise the stray sheep of the Republican flock. In some of the counties of Alabama, in the Radical nominating conventions, resolutions have been passed to divide the honors and offices between the three classes equally. But in others there are not offices enough to give one to each class, and the negro or the Southern loyalist has to be dropped. The everlasting Yankee adventurer, like Shylock, always demands and obtains the pound of flesh."

This is the case, also, in North Carolina. Wherever the colored element is in the ascendant, the "Yankee adventurer" will be sure to impose upon the credulity of the negro, upon the plea that he assisted in giving freedom to the race, and contrive to monopolize all the "loaves" that are to be had. In Craven, two of them have managed thus to gull the blacks, and in New Hanover the same game will certainly be played. We should'nt be surprised, if something of the same sort was attempted in Wake, also.

Upon this point, the protest of the "moderate Republicans," in their address, is proper, natural and well-timed. Nothing short of the most consummate assurance could influence men, who have recently been dropped in our midst, and who have no identity with our population, no acquaintance with their interests or habits, and no familiarity with their wants, to seek to control the legislation of the State or mould its Constitution and laws.

POOR FELLOWS!

The Washington Chronicle, one of Forney's two dailies, wakes exceedingly lugubrious over the discomfiture which its party has sustained. The Chronicle is peculiarly pathetic and philosophic, and with a surprised impulse, which must have been utterly stunning, thus forgets itself, and tells the truth:

"Nothing is more certain than political re-action, and he is no statesman who fails to take it into account. We have established theories of the ebb and flow of public opinion, as definite in free countries as the schedule of morality, but modified by what has been termed the doctrine of chances. The history of every progressive movement which has taken place in Europe, for the last two centuries, discloses an ultimate betrayal of some ostensible friend. Every revolution is stabbed by a child of its own begetting, and we have not escaped the general destiny."

Was there ever such a perfectly hopeless whine?

LOOK OUT, BUCKEYES!

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I learn that Ex. Prov. Gov. Holden says: "We now tell Ohio that the colored man shall vote in Ohio." Will not the Buckeyes be greatly alarmed when they hear this? They had better, for its author claims the power to "kill and make alive." But isn't this pretty cool from a man that can't vote himself?

Here is what Hunnicutt says about the matter:

"It may require storms, thunder and lightning from heaven; it may require earthquakes; it may require a war of twenty years' duration; it may require the utter insolvency of the whole nation; it may require the slaughtering of half the inhabitants of the nation; but justice will be meted out at the last."

THE UNIVERSITY.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The thanks of the citizens of the State, and more particularly of those to whom the University is an object of interest and affection, are especially due to the Sentinel for the free use which has been made of its columns in the discussions relative to the re-organization of that institution.

I would not seek to trespass upon your space, or to tax your already over-burdened good nature, if I did not think it advisable to call attention to a material error, which has underlain the whole discussion.

The essential differences between the "elective" and "University" systems of Collegiate instruction have been totally disregarded.

Not only in communications, but also in editorials, has the expression "University or Elective System" been freely employed; and although the University system is, in truth, an elective one, yet, in technical language, they are widely different. Let us take the University of Virginia as a fair sample of the one, and Harvard University of the other.

To quote from the catalogue of the former: "There is no prescribed course of studies in this institution. Every student may select the schools he will attend; but in the Academic department, he is required to attend at least three, unless upon written request of his parent, &c." There is no examination necessary for admission, nor are there any of the four regular college classes; but, instead thereof, the University is divided into schools, and each school into two or three classes. A student, for example, may take Senior Latin, Junior Greek, and Intermediate Mathematics.

At Harvard, on the contrary, a rigorous examination in Latin, Greek, Mathematics, and the usual English branches, is a prerequisite to admission, and, in the Freshman year, the whole course must be studied. In the three higher classes, however, the course is divided into required studies, upon which, of course, all are examined, and elective studies, of which each student takes such as he may deem advisable.

Thus, as the regular class organization is preserved intact, each student is enabled to take his degree, and, at the same time, to direct his studies in reference to his future pursuit in life. A reference to the respective catalogues will give a clear idea of the two systems.

I have conversed with many of the students of the University of North Carolina, and profess to know something of their wishes in this respect. I have yet to find one who prefers a system like that of the University of Virginia to the elective system so successfully in operation at Harvard.

Q.

EXCITEMENT ON TAYLOR'S FARM, NORFOLK COUNTY—FEDERAL OFFICERS DRIVEN OFF—FRUITS OF RADICAL TEACHING.

The telegraph has announced a difficulty with the negroes in regard to the Taylor Farm property, near Norfolk. The Norfolk Virginian brings us the following particulars of the affair:

"We give below the facts in regard to the proceedings of the blacks on Taylor's farm. It seems that they have determined to hold high carnival and fight it out on that line in defiance of Mr. Johnson, the Freedmen's Bureau, or any other man. It appears that a party of gentlemen visited Taylor's farm, on Sunday, the 6th. instant, among whom were officials authorized to offer each negro family a house and employment, or sell them cleared lands at a low price and give them three and five years to pay for them. The negroes called a meeting and organized by electing Anthony Butler President, and Ethan Rocket Secretary.

Propositions were made to the negro people for their consideration by Captain John De Pass, who in a very brief manner explained to them that they were occupying the Taylor Farm without warrant of law; that the Government had turned the property over to Mr. Taylor, and he was the only person now who could give them a legal right to occupy it; that the Government would provide places for them, and desired them to vacate the farm; he beseeched them to act sensibly, and if they thought there was any desire to take any advantage of them, to appoint a committee of five, and let that committee proceed to examine the property and locality, (Wise's farm,) and if the change would be to their interest they could then determine what would be best for them.

After this advice was given, a negro named Anthony Butler gained the stand, and harangued the people in the following strain:

"That persons were continually telling them that they had no right to occupy the farm, as President Johnson had pardoned Mr. Taylor, and restored his property, but he did not care if the President did pardon him, the reconstruction acts of Congress did not recognize the President's pardon, and the property was their own, and they would hold it in defiance of all opposition."

Rich. Parker, negro, better known as "Uncle Dick," next addressed the crowd.—He informed the people that the Indians were the original owners of the land, and were driven off by force, and we (the blacks) will take it from the whites by force. They have no right to it, and shall not have it. We fought for it, and we are going to keep it. We don't care for the President nor Freedmen's Bureau. We have suffered long enough; let the white man suffer now. The time was when the white man could say "Come here, John, and black my boots," and the poor black man had to go; but, my friends, the times have changed, and I hope I will live to see the day when I can say to the white man, "Come here, John, and black my boots," and he must come. I will never be satisfied until the white man is forced to serve the black man, as the black was formerly compelled to serve the white. Now, my friends, we must drive them away. If they want to stay they must be our servants. If they are not satisfied with that, let them go somewhere else. We do not intend to allow Secesh or Yankee to drive us off this property, because it is ours. We fought for it, and we will fight now to defend it if necessary.

The negroes became excited to such an extent that it was unsafe to remain longer. Consequently the delegation retired, and left the Rev. "Uncle Dick" in possession of the field.

This is what we call the practical results of radical teaching, and ere long those who have sown the wind will reap the whirlwind, and unless we are mistaken in our estimate of the Commanding General of this District, there may be occasion to use the moral suasion of the bayonet."

The Salisbury Banner chronicles a great falling off in the "Red String" organization in that vicinity.

Hereabouts they are dying out also. A League of whites that used to meet at Providence school-house, and generally had about fifty members in weekly attendance, about three weeks ago had only two present, and since then there has been no effort to get up another meeting.

The colored Leagues are also dying out. The darkies are beginning to find out that there has been more promised than there is ability to perform.—Wadesboro' Argus.

For the Sentinel.

CLEAVELAND COUNTY.

SHELBY, N. C., Oct. 10th, 1867.

Editors of the Sentinel:—Believing that you would like to hear how the Conservatives and "Red Strings" of Cleaveland are getting along, I venture to inform you.

A meeting of the Conservative citizens of Cleaveland, who favor reconstruction, but oppose Radicalism, was held in Shelby, on the 7th. instant. (Dr. J. W. Tracy presided, and J. W. Gidney and T. W. Love acted as Secretaries.

The object of the meeting was to select proper candidates to represent the County in the State Convention, when called. Capt. Plato Durham and Col. Lee M. McAfee were unanimously chosen. Being loudly called for, each made a speech favoring reconstruction, and fraught with Conservative views. They are both staunch patriots, and are white men in caste and principle, and, we believe, are capable of making the puny representatives of the Red Strings tremble for their success in obtaining the loaves and fishes which they have so confidently calculated upon.

The meeting was addressed by Dr. Tracy, in appropriate terms, and also by Mr. W. J. T. Miller, who, in former and better days, labored so faithfully for the dignity, honor, welfare and prosperity of the Old North State, linked with the destiny of the United States, and afterwards for the final triumph of the "Lost Cause," for which last grievous offence he is now non est, so far as politics are concerned.

The meeting was harmonious, and, we believe, a harbinger of a Conservative victory in the County.

There were no delegates appointed to the Conservative Convention, the opinion prevailing, generally, that it was not to be held now.

I think the Leagues in this County have seen their best days. It appears as if the freedmen have begun to smell a "mice;" they begin to say "dare's somethin' rotten in dat dare third degree, shore," and that white Leaguers are "mighty unsartin'."

THE RECENT ELECTIONS—HOW THE RETURNS WERE RECEIVED IN PHILADELPHIA.

[Correspondence of the Washington Express.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., October 11th.

The election which occurred in this State and city on Tuesday created a more intense excitement than has been experienced here for many years. By 7 o'clock, P. M., on the evening of the election, over twenty thousand persons had congregated at Democratic headquarters at the corner of Ninth and Arch streets. As the returns were received the wildest enthusiasm prevailed. General Lyle, the sheriff elect, appeared in the crowd, and when his presence was discovered he was called for and made a brief speech, stating that the city had gone Democratic by over three thousand majority. This announcement was received with the wildest shouts of applause. At this point the crowd became so numerous and enthusiastic that their cheers and shouts could be heard for many squares. After repeated cheers for the successful candidates a gentleman mounted the platform in front of the building and proposed three cheers for General George B. McClellan. This was the signal for a general explosion of the long pent-up feelings of the Democracy, and twelve cheers and a tiger were given in a style that fairly made "the welkin ring."

About ten o'clock a procession was formed at headquarters. There were over ten thousand persons in line, and accompanied by several bands of music, playing "Hail Columbia" and "Dixie," they marched down Ninth Street to Chestnut, and down Chestnut to Third Street, halting in front of the office of the Age newspaper, where several thousands had previously congregated.—Here repeated cheers were given for that paper, as well as for the successful candidates.

The procession resumed its march, passing along Chestnut to Third Street, and along Third to Walnut, and up Walnut to Seventh, and halting near the Press office, where they gave vent to their feelings by groans.—While this was going on some fifteen or twenty Democrats repaired to the Union League Hall, on Broad Street, with buckets of whitewash and brushes, stating to the Republicans, who had gathered there, that they came to whitewash the establishment.

Another incident that attracted considerable attention was the appearance of two men in a wagon on Chestnut street, ringing a bell, and who stated that they were looking for the son of Mrs. Radical, a respectable colored lady from Alleghany, who had been lost somewhere in the neighborhood of Philadelphia.

Near midnight, when it became apparent that the State had been carried by the Democrats, the crowd on Chestnut street was largely increased, especially in the vicinity of the Age office, the front entrance of which was completely blocked up, and reporters of the distant press were compelled to seek entrance in the rear of the building.

All the regular morning journals printed thousands of extra copies, The Age being in such demand that their press was kept running up to 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Salt River tickets were freely disposed of. The inscriptions on these cards were as novel as they were tantalizing to the defeated party. About noon the Salt River Gazette—Extra—appeared and was soon run off at five cents per copy. It contained various comical devices representing the defeat of the Republican party, closing with the representation of a coffin surmounted by the head of a negro. Underneath were printed these words:

"The Great Negro Party, born 1856—Died October 8, 1867."

The telegram to the afternoon papers, confirming the news of the previous evening, in addition to the equally important information from Ohio, served but to increase the excitement.

BROWNLOW!—Our city was treated to an extra sensation Saturday afternoon. The evening papers published a rumor of Brownlow's death, and the newsboys were flying through town, proclaiming the awful tidings at the top of their voices. Papers sold like hot cakes, and no doubt the newsboys would be glad if somebody would kill the old cuss every day.

It was amusing to see with what fortitude our citizens received the mournful intelligence. They did not exhibit any outward signs of the pangs which were rending their souls, but their grief was inward and silent, and of the excruciating type which requires numerous and frequent drinks.

Brownlow should have been here Saturday.—Louisville Courier, 7th.

A new grass is springing up in the Southern States. It appears to be a dwarf clover, is very thick set, covering the earth with a beautiful carpet of green. It is much relished by cattle, and is a complete exterminator of Bermuda, joint sedge, and other grasses. In Middle Georgia it is very abundant, and is attracting much attention.

"John Quill" says: "If I wanted to make a man bitterly wretched; if I wanted to hurt his feelings, and break down his spirit, and ruin his morals, I would get him to go scribbling about once a week. I approve of abolishing penitentiaries and jails and making convicts fish for the benefit of the State."

HISTORICAL READING.—"When these misnamed Republics (Athens and Thebes) submitted to be governed by the superiority of intellect, they were happy, powerful, and respected at home and abroad; but when they broke through the trammels of obedient discipline, and indulged their inborn tendencies to turbulence and sedition—when the lower orders, the uneducated people, occupied the supreme authority, and the spirit of ignorant Democracy (radicalism?) prevailed, they became, as States always will become, despite the flimsy sophistries of selfish demagogues, like ships without sails, rudder, compass, or pilot, certain of ultimate shipwreck, equally disgraceful and deplorable."

THE COMPROMISE.—The New York Herald itself discredits the sensational story telegraphed to it from Washington about an anticipated effort on the part of Congress to harmonize matters with the President.

WHERE ARE SHERIDAN AND SICKLES?—Let us have a few more "immense" popular demonstrations. Philadelphia radicalism must try some other "dodge." The accounts of their progress seem just now to be very cold.

FELL DEAD.—Yesterday, about 3½ o'clock, a negro boy, named Mark Caldwell, while shoeing a horse, fell dead. He was perfectly well and hearty up to the time of his death.—Charlotte News, 11th.

DIED:

Near this City, on the 9th inst., ROBERT E. LEE, only son of Thomas W. and Julia H. Lee, aged three months and eleven days.

Within the garden's lone retreat,
Beneath the peach tree shade,
Two little mounds the wanderer greet,
Two little babes are laid.

Father, Mother, wipe the tear-dimm'd eye,
Thy heaving sighs repress,
Thy babes are safe with God on high
And beckon thee to come.

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING, GREATLY FACILITATES the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and
Relief and Health to your Infants.
We have put up and sold this article for years, and can say in CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN a single instance to EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operation, and speak in terms of commendation of its magical effects and medical virtue. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, and PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the Syrup is administered.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.—The Annual meeting of the Stockholders in the Wilmington, Charlotte & Rutherford Rail Road will be held at Lincolnton, on the 23d inst.

SOMNAMBULISM—DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.—On the night of the 23rd ult., Dr. W. Arch. Wright, of Nash County, while on a visit to the family of his relative, W. H. Battle, Esq., near Louisburg, N. C., arose from his bed, and, in a state of unconsciousness, leaped or rather fell from a window in the second story of the building, a distance of twenty feet, breaking the left thigh, the left arm, dislocating the elbow, and, it is feared, sustaining other serious internal injuries.

Under the care of Drs. W. R. and J. King, the unfortunate sufferer is apparently doing well, and strong hopes are entertained of his ultimate recovery.

Accidents of this kind frequently result from intemperate habits; even then the victim has our sympathies, but we can the more heartily sympathize with this young man, from the fact that he never indulged in the "social glass" at all.

Dr. Wright expected to go, in a few days, to attend the second course of lectures at the Baltimore Medical College.

THE mongrel Convention, that was advertised to come off at this place, has met and "squelched." We were not present ourself, but learn, from a gentleman who was, that O'Hara and the Goldsboro' correspondent of the Raleigh Standard "didn't act horses!" Altogether, it was a quiet affair. Early in the morning we saw a "delegrit," (as he styled himself) swapping a half bushel of corn for hard cider.—Goldsboro' Star, 11th.

WAKE COUNTY MASS MEETING.

The Conservative mass meeting, appointed by the meeting of Conservatives in this City two weeks ago, came off at Tucker Hall, on Saturday last.

Several hundred persons, both white and colored, met at the appointed hour.

On motion, H. O. Parker, Esq., was called to the Chair and Wm. Snellings was appointed Secretary.

The object of the meeting was briefly explained to be for the purpose of endorsing the Conservative movement.

On motion, the Chairman appointed Messrs. Nathan Stephenson, H. W. Husted, Bryant Bagwell, Alfred Williams, and W. Crawford, Committee, to report Resolutions for consideration, who, after retiring, offered the following, through H. W. Husted, Esq.:

[The Resolutions reported by the Committee were the same as those adopted by the Conservative meeting, which was held in this City on the 27th. ult', with the following additional one, viz:

Resolved, That this meeting views with the highest interest the teachings of the late elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and other States,—that we regard them as the harbingers of peace and substantial Union among the States and the people of all sections, of the complete restoration of our glorious Constitution, and of the triumph of reason and the "sober second thought" of the great Conservative masses of the North over passion and prejudice; and, as the fast friends of the Constitution and the Union, we will endeavor, by every legitimate means, to profit by those teachings.

On motion, the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Immediately upon which, loud calls were made for Gov. Bragg. He came forward, and, for two hours, entertained the audience with an able, instructive and effective speech. He dwelt upon the practical issues developed by the situation, and, with more than his ordinary force, presented them in such a clear manner as to interest and instruct all present. He was applauded throughout the entire speech.

When Gov. Bragg concluded, loud calls were made for Judge Merrimon, who was not present.

Calls were then made for Mr. Badger and Col. Russ, both of whom declined to make speeches. Col. Russ said he could not attempt a speech after the able one just delivered, and, there being no further business, on his motion, the meeting adjourned.

H. O. PARKER, Chairman.

WM. SNELLINGS, Sect'y.

FASHIONS.—We have received from that enterprising modiste, Madame Demorest's Mammoth Bulletin of Fashion (70 figures) for ladies, for the Fall and Winter of 1867-'8; also another of less proportions (51 figures) for children of all ages. Each are accompanied by ten full size patterns and a pamphlet of descriptions; the prices are, for ladies $2,50: children $1,50.

This is a really a "big thing." Bulletins of fashions are issued semi-annually for gentlemen, but this is the first attempt to reduce the idea to practice for the benefit of ladies and children; and it is done with the liberality that characterizes all this lady's undertakings. The mammoth plates contain every variety of dress, beautifully colored for actual wear, together with patterns, and the useful hints contained in the description books should, we think, prove invaluable to every lady and mother, as well as every dressmaker. The plain patterns alone are worth more than the cost of the whole. For sale by Madame Demorest, 473 Broadway, New York.

[From the Lynchburg News.]

IMPORTANT TO POSTMASTERS.—Deputy Postmasters not Disfranchised.—We give publicity to the following decision of Gen. Schofield on the question of disfranchisement of deputy postmasters. His opinion has been solicited by a gentleman of this city, who formerly held the office of deputy postmaster, and the following endorsation was returned:

[COPY.]

A deputy postmaster is not subject to disfranchisement for participation in the rebellion.

By command of Gen. Schofield.

WM. ENNIS,
A. A. A. G.

As a different ruling has prevailed in some registration boards, we hope that all deputy postmasters will avail themselves of the opportunity now afforded of having their names registered as voters.

LETTER OF GENERAL WOOL.—General John E. Wool, in a letter addressed to William E. Porte, of New Orleans, dated the 27th, concludes as follows:

"In conclusion, I have only to remark that I have ever been the friend of the Union—the whole Union. I had no prejudices that would prevent me from residing in one State as well as in another,—in the South as well as in the North, in the West as well the East. I can truly say that I know but one country, and that was the United States, and but one interest, and that was the interest of the whole people. To preserve the one intact and to protect the other has ever been my aim and object. When my whole conduct, both before, during the rebellion, and since, becomes known, it will be discovered that I never considered it any part of my duty to go beyond the requirement of the Constitution or the rules and articles of war. During the rebellion the part I performed was not influenced by vindictive or revengeful feeling. My whole efforts were to restore the Union, and to bring back the people within its folds with as little severity as possible. Where I commanded, I neither plundered the people nor permitted those to do it who were under my command, and I never failed to restore to the rightful owner plundered or stolen property. Experience had taught me that mercy tempered with justice often accomplished more than the sword. Most truly yours,

JOHN E. WOOL."

GREELEY'S ULTIMATUM.—The last Tribune says: "Here is one journal in the North that has always been openly, zealously desirous of speedy and thorough reconstruction on the basis of universal amnesty and impartial suffrage. And we mean by impartial suffrage that all rebels as well as all blacks shall vote, unless disfranchised for some other crime than rebellion or treason."

THE IMPEACHERS IMPEACHED.—While Ben Wade and Ashley are howling for the impeachment of the President, they have themselves been impeached for their numerous political malfeasances by the people of their own State.—Nat. Intel.

THE SALE OF MR. LINCOLN'S SHIRTS.—There seems to be no doubt that the above sale was really made—the proprietor (now deceased) of a prominent avenue restaurant being the purchaser.—Wash. Star.

Nothing has been received from Ohio. The politicians from that State seem afraid to speak as to the result.

There is nothing to make Sharswood's majority doubtful.

SERENADE TO FRANKLIN PIERCE—NOBLE UTTERANCES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12, P. M.

Ex-President Franklin Pierce was serenaded at Concord, N. H., on Wednesday night, and said:

"I warn you, my friends, to note the fact that these triumphs, whatever they may be, are no party triumphs. The people have risen in their majesty with a consciousness of their power, and, disregarding party lines and party aspirations, have been silently considering what belongs to them, their children and their country.

I think the great battle has been fought and won! If the results are significant in nothing else, they are in this: that the white race—our race,—the German, Italian, French, Irish, Scotch and Anglo Saxon,—are still to be the controlling power in this Continent!

GEN. IMBODEN—MORE OF THE NEGRO LAWLESSNESS.

RICHMOND, Oct. 12, P. M.

The case of Gen. Imboden is exciting some interest. He applied to register under the President's last amnesty proclamation, upon taking the oath to support the Constitution, but was rejected. He now intends to apply to the U. S. District Court for a writ of mandamus to compel the registering officer to register his name. In case the Court refuses to grant the writ, he will appeal to the Supreme Court of the U. S., and thus test the validity of the oath required by the reconstruction act, and demonstrate what virtue there is in the pardon accorded by the President to the excluded class.

Steps will be taken to eject the squatters on the Taylor farm, near Norfolk, by civil process. There has been no outbreak as yet and no armed demonstration, but it is feared that trouble will result, and that blood will be shed before the negro squatters will leave.

The United States Deputy Marshal seized the British Bark Mulhall, of Nova Scotia, at City Point, to-day, to satisfy a claim of the Mate. The Captain resisted the seizure and was very insolent. He threatened the Country with English vengeance, and telegraphed for advice to the British Consuls at Norfolk, New York and Richmond, but was finally pacified and yielded to the law.

COTTON CLAIMS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12, M.

The cotton claims of loyal Southern owners, amounting to $120,000, which were awarded by the Court of Claims in June last, have been paid, less two and a half per cent. The successful claimants are residents of Mobile, Charleston and Atlanta. The Court required absolute proof that the claimants never voluntarily aided the rebellion.

Now a few words to my customers and friends: You see a great many different styles of advertisements. Some say they are in "luck again;" some say they have "hit the nail on the head;" some "selling out at cost;" some to "make room for a new stock;" some one thing and some another. But allow me to say, whether I am in luck, or whether I hit the nail on the head, or whether I missed the nail entirely, or failed to advertise "selling out at cost," I have bought me my old stock, (while they are still hammering away over their old stock,) and have been North and bought a new stock. My goods are now in Store, and opened for inspection.

COME AND LOOK AT THEM.

I told my customers, six months ago, that I would sell goods as cheap as Yankee, Jew or Gentile, and I think I have made my word good.

I told the people to come to Creech's to buy their goods, that I would serve them right. Hundreds have come, and they are still coming from this and adjoining Counties. And I have the privilege to say, I think they have shown their good judgment.

Don't forget to come to

DAILY SENTINEL.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1867.

From the Norfolk Virginian.

MY LOVE.

'Twas noon, and the bell of the convent,
Hung out the call to prayer,
And the nuns, in a long procession,
Came into the chapel fair.
They knelt before the Madonna,
Downcast the marble floor,
Some with their floxen faces,
Grey as the robes they wore;

Some who had left the sunshine,
So little while ago,
That the shade of the cloister on them
Had scarce had time to grow;
Maidens with lips like rosebuds,
And lovely dreamful eyes,
That might almost tempt the seraphs
From their worship in the skies.

I heard the murmuring Ave,
And the swell of the sweet old hymn,
And I saw the face of an angel,
And then all else grew dim;
So near, I could touch her garments,
So far! As heaven above,
Telling her rosary over,
I saw the woman I love.

Lips once warm with my kisses,
Trembling along the prayer,
Face like a saint's or martyr's,
Eyes full of deep despair.
Wrath for this, I wonder,
The sea gave up its dead?
And fate from the kind waves tore me,
To break my heart instead!

What have they done, my darling,
With your wealth of golden hair?
Where have they hid the roses,
And left you lily fair?
Here's one, would dower the convent,
For a single sunny strand,
For a blush of the by-gone hours,
For a touch of the slender hand.

You knew all the mournful story,
"Ship wrecked; not one to survive,"
I'd gone to the grave before you,
You buried yourself alive;
Never the wife of a mortal,
Only the bride of heaven—
If, Lord, it is sin to be jealous,
At last, may I be forgiven.

Sweet saint! I'll at least be faithful;
No more in the merry dance,
Where once we floated together,
I'll float, in a happy trance.
No smiles of others shall win me,
While she, the woman I love,
Is telling her rosary over,
With sad eyes lifted above.

In the shade of the dim old cloister,
In the flush of the prayer at noon,
A novice, o'ercome by vigils,
Fell into a death-like swoon.
Her wan, white face, as they bore her,
Out through the chapel door,
In the spell of its sabre silence,
Was grey as the robe she wore.

From the New Orleans Crescent.

THE LAST RATION

BY AN EX-CONFEDERATE OFFICER.

Few hear the immortals of Lee's army speak of the retreat from Petersburg to Appomattox Court House, the scene of the army's apotheosis, and the reason for this silence can be well understood. Knowing nothing and thinking little about the condition of the army outside of their own commands, the great body of the men, in their reliance upon their great commander, simply performed the duties imposed upon them, suffered the agencies that necessarily fell to their lot, and met calmly the death which ended those duties and agencies for many before the memorable 9th of April.

The sufferings of the rank and file of the army, on that occasion, were mercifully deadened by a stupor, if not recklessness, superinduced by the peculiar hardships to which they were subjected. The enemy, with his overwhelming force of splendidly mounted and equipped cavalry, held, in addition, the direct point aimed at by Gen. Lee, retarding his advance, compelling him to fight while daylight lasted and to do his marching by night. The want of sleep, and during the last four days of the retreat, the entire lack of provisions, produced in the men the mental and physical condition I have mentioned. And although after the surrender the men and officers of the federal army vied with each other in their kindness, and exhibited a desire to do everything in their power to relieve the necessities of their late foes, the destruction of a portion of their supply train by Gen Rosser and Fitzhugh Lee, and the detention of the balance by the awful condition of the roads, left themselves in a critical condition and incapable of affording Lee's army the much needed supplies.

Great efforts were made, and successfully, to complete as soon as possible the paroling of the men, in order that they might be dispersed from a place where there was no sustenance of any description for man or beast. Among the first commands ready to leave were the first and second Louisiana brigades, then commanded by Col. Waggaman, and with them portions of the Washington Artillery, Louisiana Guard Battery and Donaldsonville Artillery, all hailing from the same State, and naturally clustering together when about to return once more to their dear Southern homes. The condition of these men was really deplorable. Starved, worn out and many of them stricken with fever, they looked with dismay on the dismal march through the mud to Burkesville Station, the nearest point a which they could expect to find transportation. Col. Waggaman and many of the officers did not believe halt of them would be able to perform the journey, and as a dernier resort, and also in some measure to inspire the men with hopes which he himself believed delusive, Col. W. started the brigade commissary ahead to try and pick up something for man and beast on the route they were travelling. The commissary, with no more hope of success than his commanding officer, started off, and after travelling a few miles over a tract which gave no promise of supplies, being rather dubious about the road the brigade would travel, accosted an old, gray-headed, and very ragged negro he found sitting at a cross-road, and questioned him in regard to the route to Burkesville. The negro replied intelligently, giving him the necessary directions, and the commissary was about to ride on, when he thought that the darkey might possibly assist him in his search for something eatable. He began by asking if he knew where he could get a feed for his horse. After a moment's hesitation and a rapid inspection of his questioner, the darkey replied in the affirmative, and immediately led the way through a gate to a small clearing in the piney woods. Stopping in the yard of a small shanty, he went in and got the key of a pretty good-sized corn crib which he opened, and displayed to the commissary's envious gaze forty or fifty bushels of the finest corn in the ear he had ever seen, even in Virginia. He took out a liberal feed for the horse and remarked that, "the Yanks had spar'd him that much." The commissary saw in his mind's eye his brigade once more eating a "square meal," and assuming his most persuasive tone, commenced:

"Uncle, I have about six hundred men behind here a little ways who have eaten nothing to speak of for five or six days—They have come thirty or forty miles to travel on foot, and they never will be able to make the trip in their present condition. Could you not let them have a couple of ears of corn apiece, and save their lives?"

Darky.—"Is they Southern soldiers?"

Commissary.—"Yes."

Darky.—"Well, I reckon, young master, they's the last I'll ever see. You just tell them to come along and take what they want." And having said this, the poor old fellow sat down on a stone and cried like a child.

In an hour or so the troops came along, and were marched up in single file to the corn crib and given two ears apiece. The old darky in the meantime had knocked in the head of a barrel of sorghum molasses, and nearly every man got a tin cupful. There were a few cases of colic that night among those who were not fortunate enough to get any sorghum, but that did not lessen the gratitude of the men for the last Confederate ration issued to the Louisiana troops in Virginia.

To ENCOURAGE. You get dispatch, safety, but one handling and less Railroad transportation than by any other line.

Three-fourths of the PROFITS made on this road go directly into the STATE TREASURY, and if encouraged, you will soon be relieved from heavy taxation of at least two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars.

The Railroads composing the N. C. GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY LINE have recently agreed to unite in a

Cars run through in all points without breaking bulk.

A Cheap Cotton Press.

FARMERS, BEFORE YOU BUY A PRESS OR build a Screw, enquire into the merits of the

GODWIN COTTON PRESS.

Hear what the following reliable gentlemen say:

I have seen Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press at work at Mr. E. E. Smith's plantation, and it does all that he says it does in the advertisement, and more. I think it superior to any other mode of packing Cotton, and have [illegible] my labor.

W. R. SMITH.

I have used the above mentioned Press, and consider it the best I ever saw for packing Cotton.

THOS. J. VAUGHAN.

I have packed about 100 bales of Cotton with Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press, and take pleasure in recommending it to the farmers as a great labor-saving machine. It does not cost more than half as much as a Screw, and is worth twice as much.

It is so convenient, and takes fewer hands to do as much work as a Screw. I would pay the price of a Press rather than allow a man to put up a screw on my place for nothing.

D. EDMONDSON.

I have used the above mentioned Cotton Press, and it does better than a Screw. Takes less hands, does not waste Cotton, and is much cheaper.

J. R. CURRY,
Sup't W. H. Smith's Plantation.

I have packed about 70 bales with Godwin's Cotton Press, and am certain it is the best, cheapest, most compact and durable Press in existence, costing only half as [illegible], lasting twice as long as a screw.

PETER E. SMITH.

I have never seen the Cotton Press of Mr Jno. H. Godwin at work, but have no doubt, from the certificates of the gentlemen above, that it performs all they say of it. I know them to be gentlemen of character and veracity, and that their statements are entitled to credit.

RICHARD H. SMITH.

The last name is one of our most honorable and respectable citizens, well known as a former member of the Legislature. I offer this PRESS as combining more advantages for packing than any now in use; it is adapted to large or small farms, and is so simple and cheap, that any good mechanic can build it. It is well adapted to

WATER-POWER.

It is 10 or 11 feet wide, 3 feet and 3 inches thick; top of frame above ground, 16 feet; highest point of Lever, 18 or 19 feet. The platform on which the bale is turned out, is 10 feet above ground.

Length of box, 10 feet in the clear.

Length of bale 5 feet, by 2 feet 4 inches. Weight 500 or 600 lbs. It is put up flat against the Lint Room, thereby preventing the scattering of the Cotton and need of baskets.

The Press is chiefly built of scantlings.

The Inventor has spared no pains in his experiments to make it practicable, convenient and cheap. I charge

$25 for a Single Right.

The total cost, including cover and everything, is about $150. Much of that, farmers are not in the habit of including as cost.

I think I can sell County rights at about $10 by the hundred.

THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

This Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine

IS OFFERED TO THE

Public as a ready, certain and speedy means of preventing

LARGE CONFLAGRATIONS.

Until the invention of the

Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine,

Fires have been met by means too slow, too late and too cumbrous. But few persons in this country have the advantage of large hand or Steam Fire Engines, and these are often suffer a total loss of their property by reason of the great length of time consumed in sending for and getting them into working order.

BUT NOT SO WITH THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER,

which, being kept charged and standing in your House, Store or Factory, is always Ready for Instant Service.

The fire can be extinguished and your property saved by a boy's [illegible] or chamber's alarm of fire.

The first few minutes of conflagration decide the fate of the property; a little fire is quickly put out, which, being suffered, rises cannot quench.

THE EXTINGUISHER, being very simple in its operation, and entirely self-propelling, requires no previous skill or practice to operate it, and being so light, portable and self-acting, is capable of being used in any place, by any person, male or female.

It puts out all fires, arising from whatever cause.

You are saved from the [illegible] water damage caused by large Engines.

You can effect insurance on your property

At Lower Rates,

if protected by the Extinguisher.

The Extinguisher is no humbug, as thousands of good men in Europe and America will testify. I have already put these little Engines into some of our best Factories and largest Stores in N. C.

No House, Store, Factory, or Corporation is safe without them.

The price is as nothing, compared with the protection they afford.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district named by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, encourage others to do so. So help me God." On which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties or parishes of such state by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

It is SIMPLE, STRONG and COMPACT, and can be easily put together. We sold a large number last season and the demand is constantly increasing.

The following letter from Col. Hoon, of Surry County, speaks for itself:

* * * * * * It is with much pleasure that I state, your Gin Horse Power bought last season proved an entire success.

I applied a 13 feet lever and 6 feet band wheel to a 45 saw Gin, and one pair of ordinary mules which improved on constant work, and with slow gait of team gave sufficiency of speed; a capacity to gin about 4,000 per day.

The wear and tear in ginning 60 bales of cotton is not perceivable—do not think it could be estimated at 3 per cent. It was put up and geared by one of the best machinists in the State, who pronounced it superior to any patent he had seen; also, several gentlemen familiar by long use of gins, have examined it and decided to lay aside their old powers and order this pattern of you.

Yours, most respectfully, WM. R. HOOD.
